FIGHT IS OPENED ON BOGUS CHECKS

County Attorney and Sheriff Will Wage War on Bad Note Artists.

Open war on hot check artists was declared Wednesday morning by County Attorney Wayne Wadlington, backed up by Sheriff Bob Duncan, when warning of drastic prosecution of cases involving such offenses was sounded.

Business men of Ada and other places in the county will tighten their lines of vigilance against hot check writing and forgery, it has been announced, and this offense, which is declared by county officers to be the most prolific form of crime here at this time, will be smothered out if combined resistance on all sides can do the trick.

Early this week, Jack A. Hart, said to be a professional rider who performed in Ada during the round up this summer, was arrested in Oklahoma City and brought back here to answer to charges of leaving behind him a handful of hot checks which County Attorney Wayne Wadlington declares he has in his office now. The checks are alleged to have been written on an El Paso, Texas, bank and at least eight are said to have been cashed by local merchants for Hart, Oklahoma City police arrested Hart and released him before Sheriff Bob Duncan arrived on the scene. He was again taken into custody however, and returned.

Their Idea False

"It seems to be the prevailing idea among hot check writers that the malicious and felonious writing of a check for a small amount is a misdemeanor and not a felony," the county attorney said. "They cannot realize that a check, even for $1, if written with the intent to defraud, constituted a felony for which they are liable to sentence in the state penitentiary." He then cited several instances in which men arrested here on hot check charges expressed confidence that they could not be given more than a jail sentence because the checks were for less than $50.

Several men, about equally divided between whites and negroes, are now being held in the county jail on bad check counts, Sheriff Duncan said.

"We are more than willing to co-operate with merchants in an attempt to suppress bad check writing," the county attorney declared, "but at the same time we wish it distinctly understood that the county attorney's office and the county sheriff's office are not collection agencies for recovering money given out on bogus checks. If merchants wish to prosecute, we'll go the limit with them; but if they merely want to get their money back and drop the thing with that, the purpose of the law is defeated."

Officers cited the case of one merchant who had a bundle of hot checks but was unwilling to push bad check charges fearing that he would thereby miss collection on the paper.

"Rock of Ages" Stands as Church Landmark Near England Village

(By the Associated Press)

BURRINGTON COMBIE, SOMERSET, Eng., Aug. 31.—The rock visualized by Augustus Toplady when he was inspired to compose the hymn "Rock of Ages," stands just outside this village and a great demonstration to perpetuate his memory was held there on the August bank holiday.

Toplady is said to have taken refuge at the rock from a severe storm which was sweeping over the gorge on the edge of which the rock stands and, while waiting for it to pass over, he was led to compose the hymn.

The great pilgrimage to the rock was organized under the auspices of the Church of England but a Salvation Army band also took part. The 10,000 people present, some of whom were perched on jutting rocks on the side of the gorge, took part in the singing of the hymn. It was also decided that a memorial to Toplady should be placed on the rock.

DIRIGIBLE DESTROYED IN NAVAL STATION FIRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The dirigible balloon D-6 and its hangar were destroyed by fire at the Rockaway naval air station today. An explosion of gas tanks within the hangar caused the fire. There were no deaths.

BIG ENROLLMENT EXPECTED SEPT. 5

Normal School Ready for Heaviest Attendance on Record.

The long silent halls of East Central Normal will again ring with the voices of hundreds of students Monday September 5, as enrollment for fall term opens. The office force is making final preparations for registration and beginning of the school term next Monday and report that everything is turning out according to schedule.

Dr. A. Linscheid stated today that he was confident that enrollment would be sufficiently large to meet all expectations. Judging from the number of inquiries and announcements from prospective students the enrollment will be larger than usual he said.

Although registration of Normal students will begin Monday Sept. 5, the training school pupils need not report for classes until Tuesday, Sept. 6, it was announced today. Registration of students will continue all next week and as much longer as necessary, but the greater part of enrollment for the fall term is expected to be listed Monday and Tuesday.

The name of the new head of the agricultural department succeeding Prof. E. A. Pratt is still being withheld and it will be several days yet before it will be made known, according to Dr. Linscheid. All faculty members now out of the city are scheduled to return to Ada by Friday or Saturday of this week ready for the opening of the school Monday. Classes will start Tuesday and regular work Wednesday.

SHORT SKIRTS ROB POST CARD DEALER OF SOME PROFITS

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Short skirts and bobbed hair have worked a hardship on dealers in souvenir picture post cards—the variety that floods the mail at this time of the year from summer resorts along the Atlantic coast.

Previous to the advent of the aforementioned styles, stocks of these cards showing beaches and cool walks were ordered in advance in lots numbering in tens of thousands. As the beaches did not change and as a crowd was a crowd regardless of weather it was this year's crowd or last the cards could be sold just the same.

Now, however, all is changed. A picture showing a beach or a board walk of a summer playground with women strolling about clad in dresses that brushed their shoe tops can be put down at a glance as ancient stuff.

The tourist wants evidence to send home indicating that he or she is there now and that he or she is trailing up an up-to-date crowd. Hence it is thumbs down for the picture card of yesterday, to the distress and financial loss of the dealer who laid in large stocks at pre-war prices.

CREAMERY PLANT MAY LOCATE SOON

Experienced Man in Ada Investigating the Situation.

That it is only a matter of a few weeks at most until a creamery or milk condensing plant will be located in Ada is the belief of O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. He is authority for the statement that a creamery man is in Ada today, going over the situation and investigating the amount of dairy products available, with the view of putting in a creamery at once. He already owns one creamery which is making money in another Oklahoma town, and believes that the farmers of Pontotoc county are ready to put in the necessary cows to keep the plant operating full time.

Mr. Walker has not given out the name of the man, but says he knows the name and would bring a bunch of registered cows with him in case he leaves the creamery here. It is probable that something definite can be gotten out in a few days.

"NO CHILD PLAY" IF TROOPS TAKE HAND IN STRIKE

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Administration officials today looked forward to reports from the West Virginia coal fields that the men in the present engagement of "unlawful and insurrection proceedings" were dispersing and going peacefully to their homes as directed in a proclamation issued yesterday by President Harding. Should this not be the case, martial law, it was said, would be declared and federal troops will be sent to the scene of action in response to a request from Governor Morgan.

WONDER CHICKEN CROWS WHEN HE'S 15 HOURS YOUNG

Poultry raisers of the county are marveling over the phenomenon of a tiny chick, hatched with a litter belonging to A. T. Trimm, who lives near Ada on the Byrd's Mill road, which when less than 15 hours out of the shell crowed as bravely as an adult rooster.

Late Tuesday afternoon when Mr. Trimm reported the unusual occurrence, the chick had eaten less than a spoonful of food and in all other respects was apparently like his "twin" that was hatched with him. Mr. Trimm is wondering now what to name the precocious little fowl.

The chick is a Silver Laced Wyandotte and is believed to hold the record in chickendom for his early accomplishment. Shortly after he first "pipped" his way to the light the little bird strutted forth proudly. In less than a half day he surprised the Trimm family by throwing himself back in true cockerel style, flapping his wings in a confident manner, and crowing in a tiny voice. In less than a half day he crowed more than 20 times.

MEXICAN LAND OFFICE ENJOINED FOR ACTION

(By the Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Officials of the Mexican department of commerce and industry have been enjoined by the supreme court for denouncing the rights to oil lands held by the Texas company prior to May 1, 1917. This decision was handed down last night by a unanimous vote of the court. These proceedings will probably set the precedent for the court's action in dealing with nearly 150 cases calling into question the provisions of Article 27 of the Mexican constitution.

The Texas company appealed to the court for an amparo, or preliminary certificate issued to the holders of land claims pending the issuance of pre-emption papers. This action was taken to prevent the denouncing claims held by the company. If other oil companies which have asked for similar action are victorious, it is believed the decision will constitute the court's definition of Article 27, and its interpretation of that article as being non retractable in its effect, and that claims to oil lands held before May 1, 1917, cannot be questioned.

The estimated cost of the structures has been set at $1,250,000.

ADA BATTERY IS RATED OFFICIALLY

Local Guard Outfit Gets Recognition from U. S. Inspector.

Ada Battery "F" of the First Field Artillery, Oklahoma National Guard, has been officially recognized by the federal government, according to a letter received here yesterday by Capt. Robert Kerr, commander of the Ada outfit. The letter is from the United States Major in charge of this department.

Another letter from Chas. F. Barrett states that the company has been officially listed with the state and that as soon as proper steps can be taken the equipment for the Ada battery will be sent here. Arrangements to care for horses, harness, guns and other equipment are being made and Capt. Kerr is of the opinion that the outfit will arrive in the next week or two.

In the letter from the United States Major, it was stated that other guard batteries of the state had not been recognized on account of their papers not being properly made out. The Ada company did not meet with this misfortune.

Regular drill will be held by the battery tonight at the city hall beginning at 8 o'clock. Capt. Kerr requests a full company tonight to begin practice that will lead to drill with guns and horses as soon as they arrive.

Engineers Approve Plans for Two Steel Bridges Over River

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Aug. 31.—The United States board of army engineers at Memphis today approved plans for two steel and reinforced concrete bridges to be erected by Muskogee across the Arkansas river at Ft. Gibson and Weber Falls.

The structures were called for in the provision for four bridges to be erected by Muskogee, Haskell and Sequoyah counties. Approval of the plans by the army board makes it possible to proceed with the awarding of contracts for the bridges.

The estimated cost of the structures has been set at $1,250,000.

MODERN AGE RUNS TO FALSE IDEALS

Eminent Jurist Declares Present Life One of "Sham and Fake."

(By the Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, Aug. 31.—"Revolts against authority has sprung up not against the political state, but against music, art, poetry and commerce, until the age has become one of pre-eminent shame and counterfeits," J. M. Beck, solicitor general of the United States, declared before the bar association today. Mr. Beck spoke on the "spirit of lawlessness" before the general session of the annual convention in place of the late William A. Blount, the association president.

"The statistics in our court in recent years show an unprecedented growth in crime," he said. "But this revolution against authorities is not confined to the political state. In music the fundamental canons have been thrown aside and discord has replaced harmony. Its successor—jazz—is a musical crime."

Low Art Standards

"In the class of arts the criteria of beauty have been swept aside by the futurists, cubists, vorticists and other aesthetic bolsheviks. Poetry, beauty of rhythm and nobility of thought have been replaced by exaltation of the grotesque."

"In commerce the reverse is one against purity and the integrity of business morals. Who can question that this is a pre-eminent age of sham and counterfeits?"

"A spirit of lawlessness has always existed," Mr. Beck asserted, "but the increase in burglary, hold-ups, murders, theft and graft shows the recent growth of lawlessness. Today people are disregarding the lessons of the past as 'presumptively false,' he declared, 'and the burden is now upon him that seeks to invoke them.'"

CROPS FALLING LOWER BECAUSE OF HOT PERIOD

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 31.—Continued deterioration of crops over most of the state, due to recent high temperatures, was the report of the weekly crop condition summed up today by the weather bureau. This summary covers the week ending yesterday.

Late corn is generally ruined and a failure in the southwestern counties, generally very poor in the central and southwestern portions of the state, and failure in other sections, the report said. The condition of the cotton crop as a whole was described as "very poor" and "practically a failure in a considerable portion of the state."

Early corn was far enough advanced to escape the bad effects of the heat waves, the report said. The extreme eastern part of the state was the only section in which the crops were generally good, showers having fallen there, according to the report.

SHOPMEN WANT EXTRA PAY ON SUNDAY WORK

CHICKASHA, August 31.—John Duff, chairman of the federated committee of Rock Island shopmen, Tuesday declared that shopmen here would not work on Sunday as long as only straight time was offered.

Pursuant to the decision of the Railway Labor Board, company officials last Saturday notified workmen at the shops here that they would no longer be paid time and a half for Sunday work. None reported for duty and the shops here were not in operation Sunday. Despite reports that those who failed to report for duty Sunday had been discharged, operations were resumed Monday morning as usual.

G. H. Pretty, general foreman, stated that he knew nothing about the company's intention to discharge the men.

Reynolds paid his fine and was released. Homer, on default of payment, was lodged in jail.

STUBBORN FIGHTS RAGE IN BELFAST

Fourteen Killed in Hot Encounters on a Dark Thoroughfare.

(By the Associated Press)

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—The military, is announced today, will assume control of Belfast within an hour as a result of reports by the Lord Mayor on an urgent necessity of the city's protection in view of the fierce rioting and fighting now in progress.

By mid-afternoon, with fighting still proceeding in some areas between the Ulster loyalists and the Sinn Feiners, the total death roll since Monday night had reached 14. Scores have been wounded but the exact number is not known. Scenes of the wildest excitement prevailed in some of the city's main thoroughfares.

The staffs in the hospitals have been strained to the utmost in relieving those wounded in last night's rioting.

Fighting Is Brutal

Street fighting of the most savage character prevailed last night, following a day of disorder. Many streets in various parts of the city were left in inky darkness because lamp lighters refused to enter the bullet swept thoroughfares, and in the obscurity the opposing snipers were active.

The day's rioting and outburst culminated at nine o'clock in the appearance of a party of men, armed with rifles, who entered Stanhope street and took positions on the ground and opened a hot fire. Pedestrians stampeded from the fusillade. Many who were near enough to see those doing the shooting declared that the rifles they carried were new. It was the most audacious incident of the fighting since it broke out on Monday.

Protect Citizens In Place

Early today Sir William Coates, lord mayor, made strong representation to General Carter-Campbell, commander of the British forces in Ulster, and Chief Police Gelston, concerning the need for protection of citizens.

Last night the Ulster special constabulary, including nearly all the former soldiers, were in action in the Stanhope street area. Sniping is being carried out on the most approved lines, field glasses being used by the snipers.

Tram cars raced through the rioting district on North Queen street and the Oldridge road, the passengers lying on the floor of the car to escape bullets of the rioters, but an Englishman on his honeymoon trip was shot and is in a critical condition.

During the fighting this morning crowds gathered on Royal Ave. at the Corner of York street and gazed at the battle ground. Yesterday, the anniversary of the inauguration of the crew, was one of the worst days the city has ever had.

"The disgrace continuing in our city tonight would not be tolerated by the American government and the trouble would be ended forthwith," said Rev. J. Pollock at a meeting here last night. He has just returned from a Christian Endeavor convention at New York.

At four this afternoon the city was comparatively quiet and the military had taken up street duty although they had not gone into Royal Avenue.

DEPUTY KILLED IN COAL RIOTS OF W. VIRGINIA

(By the Associated Press)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Reports received here this afternoon indicated that firing along the Boone Logan line, held by state police and deputies against a band of armed men, had become general, following the killing of Deputy John Gore on Blair mountain this morning. Governor Morgan was informed at one-thirty today that a miner had been killed and a deputy captured in a brush fight at Crooked Creek.

LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 31.—John Gore, a Logan county deputy sheriff was killed in a fight between a border patrol and an armed band on Blair mountain this morning. This was the first death since state police, deputy sheriffs and volunteers from Southern West Virginia, gathered here to resist the forces which have been assembling on the east side of Spruce Ford Ridge, believed to be bent upon the invasion of Logan county.

The firing was returned and the attacking party was driven back by Logan deputies, who are reported to be holding this sector.

Quiet was reported from the front held by the McDowell and Mingo forces.

BLUE FIELD, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Provisional military company organized here for service in Logan county was this afternoon called out for duty by Governor Morgan. The company made up almost entirely of ex-service men will be ready to start for Logan as soon as details of transportation have been arranged.

PRESERVE MONTICELLO

The News is unalterably opposed to the government taking on additional expenditures. It has gone too far already, so far in fact, that many of our personal liberties have been lost. It has gone so far that it takes too much to keep it going. We must retrench and not reach out to find other fields in which to spend money.

Now there comes up the purchase by the government of Monticello, the home of the great Jefferson. While we want this home preserved as a shrine for the future generations of America, we are opposed to the government buying it, for a time to halt has come and the way to stop expenditures is to stop them. But Monticello must be preserved. In all its beauty, with all its historic background, it would be deplorable if it were permitted to disintegrate.

Then how is it to be preserved? Let the public do it? Some great financier should start the move with a donation of a few thousands. Then an appeal should be made to the patriotic citizens to donate enough to purchase the property and endow it. Then the management should be turned over to a trust company to see that it is kept up and kept right. By this means, it would be kept in better repair and the keepers would in all probability be more courteous and serviceable than if the government owned it.

Writers have suggested that it could be used as a summer home for the President, but the fact that it is owned by the men and women who honor the great Democrat, would not necessarily keep the president from using it as a quiet retreat.

Monticello has many features to appeal to Americans. Some one has said that it is "studiously and deliberately undemocratic, even aristocratic, in its planning." The New York Times says about it:

"Those who have seen Washington's home at Mount Vernon do not need to be told of the free contact of master and servant on the estates of the eighteenth century. Bakehouse and brewhouse, carpenter's shop, cobbler's shop, and smithy grouped themselves in close proximity to the manor. Even the ladies of the 'hall' spun and wove and joined in the kitchen labors of pickling and preserving. The manor was an 'industrial household'—a hive of productive activity in which men and women, masters and servants, mingled in the organic freedom of a common task. It is only at Monticello that there is no trace of all this; the elegant leisure of the master was shut off from all customary and human tact with his slaves. Henry Adams calls Jefferson 'the most aristocratic of democrats,' adding, 'as John Marshall was of all aristocrats the most democratic in manners and appearance.'

"Satirists of Jefferson—and he had them aplenty in his day—declared that in planning his house he forgot the stars. In point of fact, the starwars were least of all an afterthought. They were deliberately hidden behind wall and door when Jefferson began building in 1769, a youth of 26, and so they remained in 1801, when Monticello was completed to house the new President of the United States. Furthermore, the spacious lawns, spreading on all sides, are uncluttered by bakehouse or workshop. All the industries of the vast estate are housed at a distance, and when Jefferson's slaves came to serve him they came through a subterranean passage. The work was done quietly, unobtrusively; the Sage of Monticello was served as if by the rubbing of Aladdin's lamp. Great nobles and kings unnumbered have been more open to the human touch, more accessible to their familiars. In all this there was probably no intentional doubling of standards. Jefferson seems to have been as self-convinced in his democratic 'philosophy' as he was steadfast in the practice of its opposite.

"Monticello stands to us as a warning, all the more eloquent because so persuasively beautiful, against accepting in a quite literal sense the doctrine of equality. Only the Socialists have ever done that, and they have been more illogical in its practice than Jefferson, a thousand times."

HAVE YOU A JOB?

There is much unemployment in Oklahoma and there will be more of it this winter.

A silly optimist is a fool. It is useless to say everything is going to be flush and normal after September 15, when the cool weather comes, when such cannot be the case.

Some of the crime of the day is caused by unemployment. Therefore every business man, seeking elimination of crime, should do everything within his power to reduce the number of unemployed men and heads of families.

Have you a married woman on your payroll, whose husband has a decent job and is able to support her? Fire her and give the place to a widow who has to get bread and butter.

Have you a boy under 21 in your office who is living at home, with a father who is in reasonably good circumstances? Fire him and give his place to a soldier. There are a hundred service men jobless in Oklahoma City.

Have you a girl working in your office who lives at home with people who can give her reasonable support? Fire her, and put in a jobless man or woman who is struggling for the right to exist.

Such a policy is the patriotic duty of every executive. Spread the jobs out as far as you can. You will find a score of applicants for every place, crying for a chance to work.—Oklahoman.

New $250,000 Masonic Dormitory Will Enable University of Oklahoma Boys to Complete Work

NORMAN, Aug. 31.—(Special)—With the completion of the $250,000 Scottish Rite Masonic boys' dormitory at the University of Oklahoma, which will be occupied for the first time when the fall semester opens, September 15, members of Albert Pike Lodge of Perfection No. 2, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, of the Valley of South McAlester, McAlester, Okla., feel that they have taken a new step forward in educational work by Masons in universities and colleges in the United States.

Members of the five Scottish Rite Consistories in Texas have combined and are perfecting plans for a system of dormitories at the University of Texas, following the plans that have been completed by the Scottish Rite Masons of the McAlester Consistory. Scottish Rite Masons in Missouri also have under consideration similar plans for the University of Missouri, although thus far no definite steps have been taken.

In the fall of 1919 members of the McAlester Consistory were informed that there were self-supporting students, both men and women, at the University of Oklahoma, who needed assistance while securing their university education. It was pointed out that if these students could be provided with home-like rooming facilities at actual cost, many of them would be able to remain in the university and complete their education. Within twenty-four hours plans had been perfected for the erection of dormitories by the McAlester Scottish Rite Masons.

Two building sites were purchased and work started on the boys' dormitory in March, 1920. The boys' dormitory, which was completed in June, 1921, will accommodate 120 and is located opposite the main entrance to the University of Oklahoma. It includes a suite for the house mother and a complete lodge plant.

Memorial Tower Connects The architecture is of Collegiate Gothic, material being red brick body with white stone trimmings—following the general plan of the buildings on the university campus. The two units are connected with a memorial tower more than 100 feet high. On clear days the Oklahoma state capitol building, twenty miles to the north in Oklahoma City, may be seen from this tower. A Masonic lecture room is situated near the top of the tower for use by students preparing for the various degrees of the Blue lodge work.

The dormitory is thoroughly modern and fire-proof throughout. The California dormitory system, which is proving so popular at Leland Stanford university, has been followed. Four boys will be assigned to each suite, which includes a separate study hall, shower bath, lavatory and two bedrooms. The rooms are furnished with Murphy folding beds and large closet space.

With the completion of this dormitory, for which enough applications have already been filed to fill it this fall, the Scottish Rite Masons of the McAlester Consistory are already considering plans for the girls' dormitory, which will be erected a short distance north from the boys' dormitory. Tentative plans for the girls' dormitory include a cafeteria where both girls and boys will be furnished food at cost.

Room rent in the boys' dormitory will be just enough to cover actual operative expenses, according to H. L. Muldrow, 33 degree Hon., chairman of the building committee and board of control of the Masonic plant at the University of Oklahoma. Muldrow is also president of the University of Oklahoma board of regents, and was the last Grand Master of Indian Territory and the first Grand Master of the state of Oklahoma. He originated the Scottish Rite Masonic dormitory plan and, with C. L. Conner, 33 degree Hon., of Vinita, Okla., worked out details of the dormitory plans before presenting them to McAlester Scottish Rite Consistory Masons, who decided to promote operative Masonry by aiding educational work in Oklahoma by building dormitories at the University of Oklahoma.

An Erroneous Conclusion

Tulsa World: A writer studying the available statistics draws the conclusion that a vast majority of the petty criminals of the day come from the ranks of the ex-service men. He leaves the impression that his conclusion is that the men in the service were largely bad.

This is in line with much of the so-called reasoning of the time. It is false reasoning and is unjust, as a moment's serious reflection will disclose. Since most of the young men of the republic were in the service during the closing months of the war it naturally follows that most of the active young men in all lines of human activity are ex-service men. Of course most of the criminals of a given age are ex-service men. But so are most of the banks clerks, most of the department heads in every industrial organization, and, for that matter, most of the church congregations, preachers, lawyers and artisans.

There is a bare chance that an unusual number of criminals come from the ranks of the ex-service men, since the terms of the draft exempted only those engaged in useful and necessary occupations and men with dependents. This did result in the ranks of the criminal element, being sadly depleted by the draft. Such fellows were gathered into the various branches of the military establishment and measure of rigid discipline was forced to curb their natural desires—in many cases resulting in excellent fighting men we have no doubt.

But the criminal proclivity was not removed. Returning to private life they again sought the line of least resistance and resumed their former practice of living off society. But to conclude from these cases that the ex-service man is bad as a whole is not only absurd but an injustice that cannot be tolerated.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of an Ada citizen.

Almon Griffin, 12th and Cherry Sts., says: "I have all the confidence in the world in Doan's Kidney Pills. There have been times when I have had severe attacks of pain in my back, just across my kidneys. Every move I made was a torture. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills for these spells and they have never failed to relieve me. I am glad to give them my hearty endorsement."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Griffin had. Foster-McBurn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

MEXICAN PRISON ONCE FILTH BED IS MODERN NOW

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Belem Prison which has been described by guidebooks as a "microbic spot" to be avoided by sightseers "no longer deserves that name."

Formerly known as one of the plague spots of Mexico in which were yearly gathered hundreds of thousands of offenders of the law who were herded together in horrible filth, this prison has recently been renovated and now provides almost comfortable quarters for the 1,500 or so prisoners within its walls.

Schools for the teaching of manual training and the rudiments of education are now maintained, the 300 women in the prison being divided into five groups for instruction. Such schools are not yet provided for the men but, according to Director Vasquez, they will be installed within the next few months. Meals are wholesome and sufficient.

Shower baths have been installed and several large fountains have been placed within the patios where those who have the inclination may wash their clothes. There is a large parade ground for both men and women and the rules of discipline are few.

Smoking is allowed at all times and every prisoner may receive such additions to his daily bill of fare as his circumstances permit. Special attendants are provided for the small children of women prisoners of whom there are many, the authorities also providing them with food and a place to sleep.

"Death Alley" has been abolished. This was a long corridor through which the condemned were led on their way to execution and in almost 60 years there is no record

Health the Keynote to Beauty

Beauty means so much to women—power, social triumph, admiration and love. Beauty implies good health. Who ever saw a woman racked with pain, struggling with weakness or disease, who could be called beautiful? The woman of today in this high-strung nervous age is continually overdoing, with the result that ill health, unchecked, will ruin all chances for her happiness. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been recognized as a standard remedy for women's ills, and has done much to relieve pain and restore good health to women.

Oil Decision Hoped May Remove Leading U. S.-Mexican Issue

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Administration officials were hopeful today that the decision of the Mexican supreme court, handed down yesterday in the case of the Texas Company, would remove one of the principal difficulties between the United States and Mexico in continuing negotiations in regard to the latter.

No official advice had been received at the state department today and officials waited for a copy of the text of the court's decision before making official comment.

American Ace Worked as Sculptor Boy for $6 a Week When Young

(By the Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 30.—Sixteen years ago in a small tombstone works here, a gangling youth of 15 wrestled with mallet and chisel, learning the art of monument making, physically on the job, mentally behind the steering wheel of a racing automobile.

That was the first job Captain Edward V. Rickenbacher, American ace of aces in the World War, ever held in his life. He was getting $6 a week. Later he gladly accepted a job in a garage. It paid $4 a week.

Rickenbacher was born in a little frame cottage close to the Columbus Driving Park. From the days when he was big enough to peer through the fence, the track fascinated him. When automobile racing started, the Driving Park was his mecca. His crowning ambition was to drive a racing automobile. He reached his goal when he was 18 years of age. At that time, he was sent to Texas by a local automobile concern, in whose factory he had been working, to demonstrate its speedsters.

From then on, his career was meteoric. He became one of the best known automobile racers in the country.

Rickenbacher entered the world war as chauffeur to General Pershing. His rise to American ace of aces was as sensational as the jump from the obscurity of his Columbus home to the highest pinnacle of racing fame.

First Offer Turned Down

Rickenbacher became a part of the A. E. F. after a series of rebuffs. When the United States entered the war, he was in England buying racing cars. He immediately returned to this country and offered his services. He tried to get governmental sanction to a plan of his to enlist a flying squadron from among racing drivers of the country, but army officials turned the offer down.

A few weeks later Rickenbacher was on his way overseas, as chauffeur to General Pershing. A short time after arriving abroad, he was in an aviation training camp, placed there through the personal intervention of General Pershing.

Rickenbacher bagged his first German early in 1918. Within a month he had won the Croix de Guerre, and despite his delayed entrance into aviation, he was the second American to be given the title of ace.

At this juncture, he met with an accident that nearly ended his career as a flyer.

His car drums were split as the result of a 6,000 foot fall which came after a single handed fight against three German planes. The tip of one of the wings of the plane Rickenbacher was piloting was carried away by a hostile Fokker, and he plunged to earth. He was pronounced incapacitated for further service.

The former racing driver refused to be put out of the running, and carried his case direct to General Pershing. The latter ruled that he still might fight.

When he became a captain, Rickenbacher commanded the famous Hat-in-the-Ring Squadron. His victories continued to pile up, one after another, until he was acclaimed American ace of aces.

Keeps Marble Chiseling

Many of the medals and cups won and conferred upon Rickenbacher during his career, are packed carefully away in the little frame cottage here, but there are four things Mrs. Elizabeth Rickenbacher, his mother, values more than anything else. They are:

A piece of marble chiseled in the shape of a book and bearing the inscription "Holy Bible."

A small wooden chest.

A silver cup, embossed with gold, the championship trophy won by Rickenbacher in a bitter contest at Sioux City in July, 1914, when he drove a Duesenberg car to victory in a 300 mile race on a gumbo dirt track.

A citation from the French government, accompanying the award of the Croix de Guerre.

Rickenbacher chiseled the marble book in his monument making apprentice days. The wooden chest is a memento of a short time spent in the shops of a railroad here.

His mother values them as symbols of the steps in her son's life.

NOVA SCOTIA IS 300 YEARS OF AGE TODAY

(By the Associated Press)

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N. S. Aug. 31.—Sixteen years before the Mayflower with brailled sails east anchored off Plymouth Rock, the Sieur de Monts sighted the Annapolis Basin from the stern deck of another ship, the Acadie, and landed to from the first settlement of white men north of the Gulf of Mexico.

Today Nova Scotians celebrated the three hundredth anniversary of the granting of the center of (New Scotland) Nova Scotia, by King James I, to Sir William Alexander, in 1521, and paid tribute to the sturdy Scottish pioneers who laid the foundations of the settlement and government in this province three centuries ago as well as intrepid French adventurers whose landing and settlement in 1604 makes this town second only to St. Augustine, Florida, in point of age, in North America.

A tablet was unveiled by the Government of Nova Scotia commemorating the grant to Sir William Alexander and the Scottish foundation of Nova Scotia, and another honoring the 200th year since the establishment and setting of the first court administering English Common Law in what is now the Dominion of Canada. A third tablet is in honor of Thomas Chandler Halliburton, jurist and humorist, who, as a creator of "Sam Slick," the Yankee Clockmaker, won fame as the father of American humor. Judge Halliburton was admitted to the bar of Nova Scotia a century ago, and his famous book "The Clockmaker," or Sayings and Doings of Sam Slick of Slickville" appeared in 1837.

Place is Suitable

The Annapolis Valley afforded a singularly appropriate setting for the impressive ceremonies. The quaint, old-world town perched on the bluffs called by de Monts, Port Royal, le port royal for the beauty of its environment, but later named Annapolis Royal by General Nicholson in honor of Queen Anne, overlooks the enclosed basin, pooped vessel with square mastsails; of Champlain and de Monts and their followers in their weatherbeaten doublets.

The old French powder house, lined with stones brought from France especially to keep the powder dry still stands inside the fort built by the Sieur in 1605 among the first erected on American soil. With first the fleur-de-lis and then the British lion flying from the peak, the fort was the scene of thirteen sanguinary battles during the French and Indian Wars. An army and navy brigade commanded by General Nicholson was despatched from Boston in 1710 and for the last time the flag of Louis of France was hauled down. The huge iron key whined in the lock for the last time and now reposes in the collection of the Massachusetts Historical Society.

The cannons were taken to England and supplanted by blunt-nosed old barkers that still poke their ugly snouts from the moss grown ramparts and bastions.

The officers' barracks built by the Duke of Kent, Queen Victoria's father, have been converted into a museum where the idle tourist may gaze on relics that would—if they could talk—tell many a fine tale of adventure and romance of the early days when America's history was told on few pages.

HOT, DIZZY FEELING

Atlanta Lady's Uncomfortable and Annoying Condition Relieved, She Says, by Cardui.

Atlanta, Ga.—Miss Alice Frances Young, of 28 East Alexander Street, this city, says: "After entering womanhood, I suffered so much with womanly weakness. My back ached. I would have, at certain times, a hot feeling that seemed to go to my head. Even my shoulders would hurt, and it made me very dizzy and uncomfortable. When the blood would flow to my head—I suppose that was what it was—I would faint and feel so weak."

"I couldn't do my work. I had a good position, and this was surely annoying as well as embarrassing. I would usually have to go home and go to bed. I certainly suffered greatly."

"I heard of Cardui, and my mother bought it for me. It was the first and only medicine that ever did me any good for this trouble."

Dizziness, headache, sideache, backache, tired-out feeling and other disagreeable symptoms are often signs of womanly troubles. Thousands of women who formerly suffered from these and similar ailments have found Cardui a very valuable remedy.

Cardui is composed only of pure, vegetable ingredients which have long been recognized as of medicinal value in the treatment of many diseases and disorders peculiar to women.

ULTIMATE AUTHORITY

The McAlester News-Capital pauses in its editorial utterances to speak of the fellows from the forks of the creek:

"When a political campaign comes on, whenever any issue of country wide, state wide, county wide importance is projected, you hear the question asked, well, what do the boys at the forks of the creek think of it?"

"Men in public life are wary of the boys at the forks of the creek, whether its Mill Creek, Gaines Creek or whatnot. They know that the boys at the forks of the creek think straight to a given point, that they are not swerved by froth, oratory or pambywamby of flag waving and that a man's acts are weighed only in the balances of real worth 'at the forks of the creek.'"

"The city fellow is often given to deriding the ideas and standards of the boys at the forks of the creek but nevertheless it is upon the men who live far from the congested centers where thought after all is a conglomeration of hybred ideas that the real responsibility of the country rests."

"And the News-Capital is given to believe that just so long as their vote is preponderant, just so long will America survive as a great nation."

"History proves that national life decays when population becomes centered in great cities, and when these great centers rule by the power of their action."

"The boys at the forks of the creek may not be as modern as some of the rest of us, and they may not be up to snuff on some of our high-faluting ideas, but they rarely ever go wrong on moral or economic issues."

"We mean every word of that."

There is no doubt that the boys from the farms and the ranches of this state, as well as other states, have always yielded and will always yield a wonderful influence. Occasionally the boys from the forks of the creek have been wrong. They have repeatedly made mistakes in efforts to get good roads and good schools. Such mistakes are not frequent any more. With the rural schools sending their beams of light into every corner of our commonwealth, the boys and girls on the farms are learning what is best and are going after that best. Few cities are now as progressive as some communities on the farms. It does not take, as a rule, organizations for farmers to vote right. Generally they think right and vote with nothing further in view than of getting the best in personnel and policies.

THE STREET PROBLEM

There has probably never been as much sentiment in Ada favorable to improving the streets as at present. There is a division of opinion however, as to the best method of improving. Many say that graveling the streets will meet the needs. Others say that to gravel the streets is simply to delay what ought to be done now, pave permanently. They point out that Ada will remain a country town until she gets paving and gets in the city class.

The News believes that both are right. That it would not be wise to delay for any considerable time, more than a few months, the paving of the important streets and avenues we believe would be poor business. The cross streets that are traveled only now and then could get along for some time with gravels.

There is no denying the fact that the streets must have attention. Commissioner Smith is doing everything he can with the money and equipment he has with which to work. With about eighty-five miles of streets in the city, it is apparent it is impossible to keep them in good condition without much money and considerable equipment.

We believe the property holders along the most frequently traveled streets will be ready to pave in a short time. Labor is down, and material is considerably lower than a few months ago. Graveling is better than no improvements and is said to be quite successful on roads and streets that are not used by heavy traffic. We believe that all will agree that to delay paving the main thoroughfares through the city will cripple the growth of the city for a long time to come.

We hope the citizens will get together on a constructive program and get the construction under way at once.

"The country wanted a change, and now it has the change," an old democrat was heard to remark recently. "I guess they did not mean for the change to come so all fired fast and in stacks." Maybe the change will change again and change the change back to the change before we had a change.

The idea of democratizing the democratic party in Oklahoma is timely and should be carried out. Any party needs leaders, but the fact that a man holds a given office does not make him a leader of a party and give him the right to select his successor.

Rube Geers, the philosopher of Tishomingo as well as style designer, is bold enough to remark thusly: "Girls who formerly stayed at home because they had nothing to wear are in the swim now. The streets are crowded with 'em.'"

Comments given below do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the News. In fact, oftentimes the opinion expressed is directly opposite to that held by the News. The opinions are given, however, because this is a newspaper.

What Courtesy Means

Daily Ardmoreite: The pioneer iron master, Andrew Carnegie, set new records in steel production by watching one team against another. He understood the development of "pride of profession," the thrill that comes through good work, well done.

Carnegie once repeated a conversation between two Glasgow street sweepers, who were discussing a deceased fellow worker.

"Sandy was a guide man," said the first. "Aye," replied his companion, "but he was a bit careless in sweeping around the corners."

There is solid satisfaction in hundred percent performance of the humblest tasks. Genius is but an infinite capacity for taking pains. The world's champion ball team of Cleveland was badly beaten on the rough, soggy Brooklyn playing field. On their home grounds, they were invincible. Their playing field was as fast and smooth as a billiard table, due to the untiring efforts of the ground keeper.

When the world's series winners were divided, the care-taker received a purse of several thousand dollars, by the unanimous vote of management and players.

Take pride in your profession! Set new and higher standards of workmanship.

You will win an immediate reward in personal satisfaction, and ultimate success.

In The Oil Fields

Some delay in developments has been reported from wells in the Francis field recently.

Lee and Smith, drilling in 3-4-7, east of Francis, at 850 feet. Perkins and Byrne in 3-4-7 are running casing in preparation to drilling deeper. In getting the well ready for a shot last week in about 16 feet of hard sand at 1,370 feet, the casing parted and work was held up for a while, according to a report from the field.

The Kingwood well, in 3-6-6, has received 5-inch casing and is reported to be ready to resume drilling at about 2,700 feet.

Drilling on the Transcontinental well NE NE 14-6-4, had reached 1935 feet this morning and is progressing well in black shale, reports from the field said.

ADA ICE PLANT RATED AS SAFEST IN STATE

The local ice-plant was declared the best protected in the state after a recent inspection, according to Roy Glynn, manager. The plant has no special meetings or demonstrations of first aid, but has only the standard safety devices to protect employees. The only instructions given the men are to "be careful."

With these simple preparations and a first aid kit, the Ada plant leads the whole state, whereas in some towns special demonstrations are held occasionally to discuss safety measures, it is said.

Junior Police Will Help Curb Juvenile Crime in St. Louis

(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, July 8.—St. Louis plans a junior police department, composed of boys between 12 and 18 years old, to work among juveniles as a crime preventative measure. Victor J. Miller, president of the board of commissioners, is sponsor of the movement.

Permanent positions with pay are planned for some of the boys, who would wear uniforms and badges. Mr. Miller said. Juniors would not have power to make arrests, but would co-operate with the city police and report cases of juveniles who are straying from the right path, he added.

Organization of the department will get under way as soon as plans are fully worked out, he reported. It is intended to graduate juniors to the senior force.

"Crime prevention is the object of the organization," the head of the local police continued. "If we can teach the boys to respect and uphold the laws, we will save scores of them from following paths that lead to penitentiaries."

"The strongholds of the department should be in the tenement districts. It is largely from these sections that the criminals come. There is where boys often learn the rudiments of crime."

Consolidated School Asked by Districts in Recent Election

A petition for the consolidation of three public school districts, two in Pontotoc and one in Coal county, was being considered this morning by County Superintendent A. Floyd. The districts are Jesse, Sheep Creek and Pleasant Hill, the last in Coal county.

The petition will be submitted to resident voters of the three districts and if 50 percent of them sign it, an election will be called on the measure. If half of those voting favor the measure, the consolidation will be started soon. Jesse will be made the center of the district and the site of the consolidated school, it is contemplated. The three room school there will be re-modeled some and the teaching force of the three districts concentrated. The elimination of one of the six teachers now being used in the three districts will be made possible if the district consolidates, Mr. Floyd said.

If the districts unite, two years of high school work probably will be given at Jesse.

OKMULGEE—The post adjutant of the American Legion here has reserved rooms for Okmulgee's contingent to the national convention in Kansas City this fall. It is planned to take a train of freight cars equipped with beds and matted in the French designation of "8 Cheveaus; 40 Hommes."

PARENTS MUST SIGN TO GET BAD GRADES

(By the Associated Press)
NORMAN, July 8.—(Special)—Flunkers at the University of Oklahoma won't be able to fool their parents in the future.

Registered letters, containing the grades flunkers made during the 1921 spring semester have been sent to the parents of all University of Oklahoma students who are under twenty-one years of age by Dean Roy Gittinger, registrar.

Any student under twenty-one who failed or received conditions in forty percent of his work this spring will not have an opportunity to intercept the grades sent home, for the parents will have to sign for the registered letters.

In past years flunkers have been known to watch the mails when they arrived at home and intercept the letter from the university containing the grade report—and parents have continued to think their children were excellent students when they were not passing.

Flunkers will not be permitted to enroll for work this fall. This is a part of the plans adopted by the university faculty in raising the scholastic standing of the university. University authorities also believe that the time of faculty members should not be wasted on students, who will not make creditable grades but rather that the time of the faculty should be devoted to the students who are studying.

The revival at the Church of Christ is continuing with increasing interest, according to reports by members this morning. Eight were baptized last night, making fifteen additions to the church since Sunday.

The theme for the sermon by Rev. A. E. Freeman revivalist, this evening is "What Must a Good Man Do To Be Saved." A welcome is extended to all to hear this lesson. MAXWELL AND BEBEE HELP IN ROAD MOVE

A constructive program of work which contemplates grading first the Ada-Maxwell road and later building good bridges over the roads leading out from Maxwell was outlined recently at the formation of a Good Road Club at Maxwell, reports from there today said.

A mass meeting of citizens was called for the purpose of forming such an organization and N. B. Stall president, and H. B. Roach, secretary of the Ada Good Road Motor club, were present on invitation and made speeches. Other talks were by good roads enthusiasts including A. T. Snoddy, of Stratford, H. L. Norman of Maxwell, L. W. McIntyre, Maxwell, and others. The purpose of the club is to build the road and make it a state highway through the fertile farming country that lies along it between Ada and Maxwell, via Bebee. This will be connected to the road that crosses the new bridge near Asher, over the South Canadian river.

Officers elected for the Maxwell club are H. L. Norman, president; Ernest Sutton, vice-president; S. Summers, secretary and treasurer. A board of directors composed of Ed Cotton, John Lane, Add Tyson, S. E. Evans, George Flowers, Charles Newby and Dr. S. L. Burns was elected.

A mass meeting of citizens of Bebee was called to discuss conditions of the road from Bebee and Maxwell. Representatives of the Ada club helped in the organization of a Good Road club. Officers were named as follows: D. W. Hood, president; R. L. Rollins, vice-president, and J. W. Hood, secretary and treasurer. The organization will meet Saturday night to perfect plans to improve the road from Ada, on across the Canadian river.

The relation of the doctor to the patient is vital. The dependance of the doctor on the druggist is vital.

CHILD SUICIDE GAINS HEADWAY OVER COUNTRY

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Suicides are on the increase. This is especially true among the children.

Reports covering suicides for the first six months of this year show that 214 boys and 293 girls have killed themselves. During the same period of 1920, 225 children ended their own lives.

These figures come from the save a Life League, of which Dr. Harry March Warren is president.

The object of the league is the prevention of suicides, and it's head reports that the increase in the number of self-inflicted deaths is the aftermath of war among adults and the fear of parental anger due to failure in school examinations in the case of children.

Of the many children who killed themselves in the first six months of this year, Dr. Warren said:

"Many of these children leave notes in which they declare fear of examinations impelled them to die. It is not the examinations, really, but the barbarous threats of parents to inflict terrible treatment in case children don't pass. Many fathers and mothers are rough and mean to their unfortunate offspring. Some teachers are severe. Many children are in poor health and therefore weak in their studies and in resistance.

"Many parents actually persecute their children. I cannot understand how this can be. They select one particular child as the victim of their temper."

The difficulties of childhood and of that period of adolescence during which the child becomes an adult were understood very well by George Elliot, the writer, who reflected upon her own youth, the hardships of which made her contemplate suicide.

"The impenetrable puzzlements of youth! I was happier when older. If there is any terror of despair equal to that of adolescence it has yet to be discovered."

The habit of "putting it off" has caused the loss of many lives. A dose of Prickly Ash Bitters at the first sign of indigestion, constipation and kidney trouble wards off sickness and saves money. Men who are good managers should always keep a bottle on the shelf at home. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by Gwin & Mays. (adv)

YOUNG LEGION POST LOCATES CLUB ROOM

Ross Collins post No. 240 of Tipton, one of the youngest posts of the American Legion in the state, having been organized only a month, has already obtained club rooms, furniture and will have a pool table within a few weeks. The manager of a motion picture theatre at Tipton permits the post to give a benefit show one night each month. By adding two extra reels of pictures and selling tickets the Legion has tripled the regular attendance at the show on its benefit nights.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MAY OPEN LADIES' REST ROOM

The Women's Auxiliary of the Weary Grey Post of Drumright, has undertaken the task of raising funds for the opening of a downtown rest room in that city for women. The room will particularly welcome farmer's wives who come to the city for supplies.

WOODWARD COUNTY POSTS TO RUN FAIR BOOTHS

Posts of the American Legion of Woodward county will maintain a Legion booth at the county fair from September 20 to 22 according to the announcement of Dr. H. E. Stetcher of Supply, county commander. At the booth war veterans may apply for victory medals or have pensions of the war risk insurance laws explained to them. War relics will be on exhibition.

RESOLUTIONS DEPLORE COMPENSATION BILL FATE

Resolutions deploring the action of the president and the United States senate in recommitting the adjusted compensation bill delaying relief to the ex-service men of the nation were adopted at a recent meeting of Woodward post No. 19. The resolutions request early reconsideration of the measure. Copies were sent to Oklahoma's senators and to the President.

Club Rooms Secured

Charles Mix post No. 203 of Headtown, is to have post club rooms after a long delay. The post contracted for rooms but the building was plunged into a lawsuit and while the lawyers argued, the building burned down. Now the post has a new hall rented and will soon take possession.

At a recent funeral conducted by the post the first carriages of the procession had reached the grave a half mile from the church before the last carriages had left the church. More than 3,000 persons attended the funeral.

LEGIONNAIRES PETITION ELECTION POSTPONEMENT

The city election in Birmingham, Ala., may be postponed at the request of the American Legion post in that city. The service men want to vote. When a law exempting them from poll tax was declared unconstitutional recently, the men were disqualified as voters. Thirty thousand world war veterans of the state are affected.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Burk Adams and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Johnson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Delaney and children, Mrs. John Lee, Mrs. Dr. Price, and Dr. and Mrs. J. T. 3000 ARE FED AT MASONIC JUBILEE

Throngs of Visitors Come to Join Local Lodges in Celebration.

Three thousand persons were fed Tuesday night at the barbecue at Glenwood park in one of the culminating events of Masons' Day given under the joint auspices of Ada lodge No. 119 A. F. and A. M. and the Ada Chapter of Eastern Star, according to an estimate made Wednesday by M. F. Manville, of the entertainment committee.

Of this number, well over 1000 were Masons, it is believed. Registration books at headquarters showed almost 2,000 Masons and their families enrolled to participate in the celebration. Many visiting Masons did not register.

During the entire day Tuesday, Masons reigned supreme in Ada. Incoming trains Tuesday brought scores of lodge men and their families until a late hour in the day, every lodge in the county and many of surrounding counties being represented in the immense crowd of visitors that flocked here for the festival and to celebrate the Masonic service observation of the Mosaic order and the Robert Morris anniversary, held by Ada Chapter O.E.S. Roff, Francis, Allen and Stone-wall lodges of both organizations turned out big delegations and a surprising number of transient Masons were registered, reports this morning show.

Before the official hour for registration to start Tuesday afternoon, headquarters here were jammed with visitors and enrollment opened several hours ahead of schedule to take care of guests. A squad of five registrars was kept busy until after the barbecue hour late Tuesday afternoon.

Hill Park Crowded

Crowds of Masons and their families attended the Ada-Asher game at Fair Grounds park Tuesday afternoon. The grandstand was filled and the largest attendance of fans for weeks was reported.

Mrs. Sarah A. Morris, Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star who was to have been principal speaker at the Robert Morris anniversary program given at Glenwood park Tuesday afternoon, was unable to attend and her place on the program was taken by William M. Anderson, Past Grand Officer of the Ada lodge. Mr. Anderson stressed the duties of womanhood under the new suffrage rights of woman and urged a close cooperation between Masons and Eastern Star members everywhere.

Grand Master J. H. Patterson presided at the Masonic Service program last night at Glenwood park. He traced briefly the history of Masonry in Oklahoma before and since statehood. He was followed on the program by William Anderson, grand secretary, who discussed Masonic service in educating young men for good American citizenship. Past Grand Master William P. Freeman showed the relation of Masonry to the founding of the United States, pointing out signers of the Declaration of Independence who were Masons. Frank Derr, Past Grand Master, was unable to attend the celebration.

The suit was filed some time before the murder of Kennedy. At Mrs. Burch's request her maiden name of Allie Hale Quayle was restored on her and she was also given the custody of the four year old son. Bishop W. A. Quayle, father of the plaintiff, was not present at the hearing.
